What an incredible location on beautiful Euclid Avenue in Ridgefield Park - close to transportation, schools, shops and right across the way from the library. It's a solid, gracious home with all the wonderful architectural details that make it unique today - high ceilings, generous room sizes, chestnut woodwork, hardwood floors, pocket doors, chair rails and stained glass. Better still, there's a newer kitchen and bath here, too! And when you step inside this home and shut the outside world away, all these features give you a serene sense of peace, security, and belonging. Plenty of space for all including an unfinished basement AND an unfinished, walk-up attic. Deep backyard on the Cedar Street side of the home. The possibilities are endless.
